

Patrice retired in 2016 after working 34 years for IBM in different managerial and lead capacities. She is an aunt and godmother to many and her love for kids shows through her interactions with the kids at the gym.

She loves to travel and love spending time with her family. She's an avid camper, and believe it or not, Patrice is a biker chic (motorcyclist) who loves to ride.

Patrice graduated from Tampa Technical Institute (Tampa, FL) in 1993 with a Bachelors Degree in Electronics & Computer Engineering.